You've probably seen here or other places that the Democrat's have proposed the largest tax increase in American history. If this becomes law, the average taxpayer will face a hike of about $3,035. But for some Dem's that's not enough. The Democratic Progressive Caucus thinks Americans should be paying paying about 2.5 times that amount. The Congressional Black Caucus thinks Americans should be playing 2 times that amount.

It's not even a question of if the Democrats will raise taxes anymore, it's a question of how much...
